7. [redacted] John Norpel, on the staff of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, called to say that he had received a call from Bill Grogan, on the detective squad of the Yonkers Police Department, indicating that they had come across a white racist bulletin carrying the title "Where it Is." After checking Norpel had reason to believe that there was a definite tie-in between this publication and one compiled by an Agency employee entitled "Where's What." Norpel said he suggested to Grogan that he contact the Agency concerning this. Norpel merely wished to alert us to the fact that he had referred Grogan to us. All of the above information was passed on to [redacted] of the Office of Security.
